

2012
ONE BOOK ONE NEBRASKA
SELECTION

Book Signing and Presentation
by Author Joe Starita

Sunday April 1, 2012 -3:00 pm
Great Platte River Road Archway

Joe Starita will be part of the exciting conclusion of the Kearney Crane Watch Festival!

Joe Starita is a professor in the College of Journalism and Mass Communications at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln. Before coming to UNL, Starita was part of the Miami Herald's Investigation Team and served as the paper's New York bureau chief. Starita received his first Pulitzer Prize nomination for an article about impoverished Haitians and efforts to exploit them in order to extort money from insurance companies. His second Pulitzer nomination was for his book The Dull Knives of Pine Ridge – A Lakota Odyssey, published in 1995. Published in 2009 I Am A Man has been awarded the Leo Reano Award from the National Education Association.

Presented in part by:

Great Platte River Road Archway
3060 E. First St.; Kearney, NE 68847; 308-237-1000; www.archway.org